Volunteer to serve as a learning facilitator in an online community of practice for Higher Education faculty, staff, and administrators implementing community engaged work. In preparation for Campus Compact’s microcredentialing program in Community Engagement Fundamentals, the community of practice will support learning and connections as facilitators lead a group of colleagues on their campus. This online community is convened by the University of Pittsburgh.

CALL FOR LEARNING FACILITATORS

Community Engagement Professionals: Community of Practice

Volunteer to serve as a learning facilitator in an online community of practice for Higher Education faculty, staff, and administrators implementing community engaged work. In preparation for Campus Compact’s microcredentialing program in Community Engagement Fundamentals, the community of practice will support learning and connections as facilitators lead a group of colleagues on their campus. This online community is convened by the University of Pittsburgh.

COMING TOGETHER

Join others who share common concerns, problems, or interests and are coming together to strengthen their practice.

SHARING RESOURCES

Share best practices and create new knowledge to advance your professional practice to fulfill individual and group goals.

ADVANCING PRACTICE

Develop key competencies as Community Engagement Professionals to mobilize under the breadth of community-engaged work.

Requirements

Access to computer, camera, and microphone for Zoom meetings. Participation in 1-hour orientation and scheduling of 3 campus meetings between May 15-Aug 15. Attendance and engagement in the following all-cohort dates: May 14, June 11, July 9, August 13 from 1:00-2:30pm.

CAMPUS COMPACT MICROCREDENTIAL

Campus Compact’s Community Engagement Credentialing Program provides civic and community engagement professionals with opportunities to earn formal recognition for the knowledge and skills they develop throughout their careers. It provides a framework for community engagement professionals to grow and achieve in the field in ways that encourage effective, inclusive, and equity-based partnerships and practices.

https://credential.compact.org/micro-credentials/community-engagement-fundamentals/

To learn more contact Lead Facilitator, Jamie Ducar, Director of Community Engagement at: cgrinfo@pitt.edu or visit www.cesf.pitt.edu